LEAD SOFTWARE ENGINEER – BITDEFENDER

As a lead software engineer of B2B2C cloud integrations my main responsibilities were keeping a close contact with the product manager and prioritise the backlog of the project, transform bussines specifications to technical specification and designing the solutions, and closely communicate with the QA and DEV team to ensure that any new feature is delivered in the shortest possible time.

Due to the nature of position (B2B2C) I was often in contact with the Bitdefender partners that integrate consumer solution, providing technical insights about Bitdefender cloud services and providing solutions for their needs.
