In exceptional, well-justified cases, a doctoral supervisor may be a member of two doctoral schools within the U.B., provided that he/she has obtained habilitation in two specific fields or if one of these doctoral schools has a multidisciplinary character. The acquisition of the quality of member of the second doctoral school is conditioned by the prior agreement of the majority of the doctoral supervisors within it, by the opinion of the faculty council subordinated to the respective doctoral school and by the approval by the C.S.U.D. with the majority of its members, provided that the number of votes against is not more than 5. The doctoral supervisor can supervise doctoral students only in the fields for which he/she is qualified, except for theses under cotutelage. These rules also apply in the establishment of new doctoral schools, the merger or division of the existing ones, including for inter- and/or multidisciplinary doctoral schools.

- (2) The position of a doctoral supervisor is registered either in the staffing table of a department or in the staffing table of the doctoral school, according to the decision of the doctoral supervisor. In order to have the main position in the staffing table of the doctoral school, it is necessary that more than half of the activity of the doctoral supervisor is carried out at the doctoral school.
- (3) The doctoral supervisor is subordinated to the director of the doctoral school, for the part of the workload regarding the activity within the doctoral school, and to the director of the department, for the part of the regarding the activity within the department, regardless of whether the position is in the staffing table of the doctoral school or that of the department.
- (4) PhD supervisors who reach retirement age and who are effectively involved in the activities of the doctoral school, may continue their activity as a doctoral supervisor, under the conditions of the Law, either under a fixed-term employment contract or on an hourly basis, including as emeritus professors. They retain their quality of doctoral supervisor and that of member of the doctoral school and can continue the guidance of their doctoral students under the same conditions as the titular doctoral supervisors until they disaffiliate from the doctoral school. In order to guide new doctoral students, the agreement of the doctoral school council is required. Doctoral supervisors who no longer have doctoral students in coordination can keep their membership of the doctoral school for a fixed period of 3 years, with the approval of the doctoral school council and with the

- (5) If the retired doctoral supervisor wishes to cease the activity of doctoral supervision, he/she submits an application to the management of the doctoral school and renounces the membership of the doctoral school. In this case, the board of the doctoral school decides on the takeover of doctoral students by other doctoral supervisors, with their consent.
- (6) Tenured doctoral supervisors who have not reached retirement age, but do not have any doctoral student in coordination, retain their membership of the doctoral school for a fixed period of 4 years. After this period, the membership of the doctoral school can be maintained for a maximum period of 2 years, with the approval of the doctoral school council and with the right of renewal. Doctoral supervisors with positions reserved under the law are exempted.
- (7) Doctoral supervisors who are not tenured and no longer coordinate any doctoral student for 3 years are automatically withdrawn from their membership of the doctoral school. This quality can be regained by going through the procedure for applying for doctoral supervision within the U.B.
- (8) Persons who have the status of doctoral supervisor without having the quality of tenured in the U.B. and who wish to exercise it within a doctoral school of the U.B. may become members of it with the approval of the doctoral school council, the faculty council, the C.S.U.D. and with the approval of the U.B. Senate and may supervise doctorates under the same conditions as the titular doctoral supervisors.
- (9) The number of doctoral students, in various stages of doctoral studies, who can be simultaneously supervised by a doctoral supervisor working at the U.B. is 8. Above this limit, starting with the 2026-2027 academic year, but without exceeding the maximum number of 12 doctoral students for no more than 20% of the doctoral supervisors in a doctoral school, the prior approval of the board of the doctoral school of which the doctoral supervisor is a member and the approval of the U.B. Senate is required.
- (10) The maximum number of doctoral students who can be simultaneously supervised by a doctoral supervisor working within the U.B., provided for in paragraph (9), may be exceeded only exceptionally and only for a fixed period. This situation may exist in the case of resumption of the doctoral program after interruption or of taking over the guidance of doctoral students from other doctoral supervisors. It is necessary to obtain the approval of the board of the doctoral school to which he/she belongs and of the C.S.U.D. The respective doctoral supervisor shall not put out to competition new vacant positions of doctoral students until the number of doctoral students supervised simultaneously falls below the maximum number provided for in paragraph (9).
- (11) They are not included in the number of doctoral students provided for in paragraphs (9) and (10), on the date of the doctoral admission competition: doctoral students who are in a period of interruption of activity; doctoral students who have publicly defended their doctoral thesis, but have not yet been validated; doctoral students who rewrite or complete the thesis following failure to pass the public defense or invalidation; doctoral students in co-supervision/co-direction, for whom the doctoral supervisor does not have the main quality.

(12) The doctoral supervisor is supported in his/her activity with the doctoral student by an academic guidance and integrity committee, that usually consists of 3 members. At least one member of this committee is from outside the I.O.D.S. The members of the academic guidance and integrity committee cannot be nominated in the committee for public defense of the doctoral thesis. The doctoral supervisor may, based on sound reasons, modify the composition of the academic guidance and integrity committee.

(13) The rights of the doctoral supervisor include:

- (a) the right to guide and evaluate the activity of the doctoral student, with respect for professional and university autonomy;
- (b) the right to propose the academic guidance and integrity committee and the public defense committee of the doctoral thesis;
- (c) the right to an impartial internal and external evaluation based on a methodology specific to the evaluation process, the content of which has been brought to the attention of all doctoral supervisors;
- (d) the right to know the results of the internal and external evaluation of one's own activity;
- (e) the right to refuse to declare a candidate admitted to the competition for admission to doctoral studies and to refuse to supervise the doctoral thesis on one of the topics he has proposed, if he considers that there are elements that do not allow the development of the doctoral degree programme in good conditions;
- (f) the right to refuse to continue supervising a doctoral thesis, when he/she considers that there is or may arise a situation of conflict of interest and/or violation of legal and/or deontological norms;
- (g) the right to refuse to take over the guidance of a doctoral student from another doctoral supervisor, when he considers that there is or may arise a situation of conflict of interest and/or violation of legal and/or deontological rules and standards;
- (h) the right to request the doctoral school to organise an admission contest for each vacant doctoral student position in its portfolio;
- (i) the right to decide the elements to study within the training programme based on advanced university studies in which the doctoral student must participate, in compliance with the rules established by the doctoral school.

- (14) The duties of the doctoral supervisor include:
- (a) to ensure the scientific, professional and deontological guidance of each doctoral student;
 - (b) to provide assistance in the scientific research activity of the doctoral student;
 - (c) propose research topics;
 - (d) to objectively and rigorously monitor and evaluate the activity of doctoral students;
 - (e) to support the mobility of doctoral students;
 - (f) to avoid conflicts of interest in the guidance of doctoral students;
 - (g) to ensure that the research activity carried out by the doctoral student complies with the principles and rules of ethics specific to the research field and, where appropriate, to request the approval of this activity by the specialized committee, before its actual start.
- (15) A PhD supervisor can simultaneously supervise a maximum of 4 postdoctoral researchers. The provisions of paragraphs (9), (10) and (11) shall be applied accordingly.
- (16) The total cumulative maximum number of doctoral students and postdoctoral researchers who can be supervised simultaneously by a doctoral supervisor may not, under any circumstances, be more than 16.

Art. 13.

- (1) The academic workload of a university professor, respectively of an associate professor, respectively of a university lecturer/head of works, who has the quality of doctoral supervisor, is established in accordance with the provisions of art. 211 (12) of the Law no. 199/2023 on Higher Education.
- (2) The academic workload for doctoral supervision can be conducted for a maximum of 12 doctoral students, for the period of doctoral studies encompassing the timelapse from enrollment to the public defense of the doctoral thesis, including for those in the extension of the doctoral programme. Doctoral students who are not included in the maximum number of 12 doctoral students who can be supervised simultaneously are not regulated.
- (3) The number of coordinated doctoral students considered for the regulation is the one on the first day of the academic year and is not influenced by the increase (by the resumption of activity after interruption, taking over students from another doctoral supervisor, the activity of redoing or completing the doctoral thesis, etc.) or the decrease (by defending the doctoral thesis, interruption, expulsion, changing of the doctoral supervisor, deaths, etc.) of the number of doctoral students during the academic year.

- (4) There are 0.5 conventional hours for each doctoral student who writes the doctoral thesis in Romanian and $0.5 \times 1.25 = 0.63$ conventional hours for each doctoral student who writes the doctoral thesis in an international language.
- (5) In the case of co-supervision/co-direction, regardless of its type (interdisciplinary, national, international), only the activity of the main doctoral supervisor at the UB is regulated.
- (6) At the training programme based on advanced university studies, the average weekly workload registered in the academic staffing table is calculated starting from the total number of physical hours provided in the curriculum, divided by 28 weeks and multiplied by the coefficients of 2.5 conventional hours per hour of course in Romanian or 1.5 hours conventional hours of seminar in Romanian, to which an additional multiplication coefficient of 1.25 is applied for activities carried out in an international language.
- (7) In the case of postdoctoral supervision, the same rules are applied for regulation as in the case of doctoral supervision; the supervision of no more than 4 postdoctoral researchers can be regulated.
- (8) The doctoral supervisors who coordinated doctoral students who, after defending the doctoral thesis, obtained the title of Doctor, will benefit from salary increases at the proposal of the director of C.S.U.D., with the approval of the Board of Directors. The quantum of the salary increase will be decided by the Board of Directors.

Art. 14.

- (1) The director of the doctoral school represents a management position and shall be paid equivalently to a department director according to the salary scale, even if his position is part of the academic staffing table of a department.
- (2) The director of the center for advanced doctoral studies, the director of the postdoctoral center, the director of the master's study center and the directors of the research centers or laboratories, all within the doctoral school, do not represent management positions and are not salaried.
- (3) The members of the doctoral students' academic guidance and integrity committees are remunerated cumulatively at the pre-defense of the doctoral thesis, at a value equal to the equivalent of 16 conventional hours, but not more than 1000 lei gross.
- (4) For situations in which the members of academic guidance and integrity committees have been previously remunerated for their activity in these committees for periods prior to the entry into force of these amendments to the Hourly Payment Methodology, the amounts received until the date of entry into force of these amendments shall be deducted from the amount due in paragraph

- (3).
- (5) If a member of the academic guidance and integrity committee withdraws or is replaced at the proposal of the doctoral supervisor, with the approval of the doctoral school council, he/she will lose the due rights mentioned in paragraph (3). The newly appointed member of the academic guidance and integrity committee shall receive an amount calculated according to Art. 14 (3), proportional to the number of years in which he/she has worked in the academic guidance and integrity committee.
- (6) The members of the doctoral committee are remunerated in the hourly payment system, according to the standards and ceilings approved by the Board of Directors. It is regulated as follows:
- (a) the president of the committee: 2 conventional hours for participation in the public defence;
 - (b) doctoral supervisor: 15 conventional hours for the preparation of the report and participation in the public defense. In the case of theses in co-supervision/co-direction, the rule applies to both doctoral supervisors;
 - (c) official reviewers: 10 conventional hours for the preparation of the report and 2 conventional hours for participation in the public defense.

Chapter VII – Admission to doctoral studies

Art.16.

- (1) A candidate for the doctoral student position will be declared admitted to the doctoral studies organised within the U.B. after completing the selection process for the vacant positions for doctoral student established by the doctoral supervisors of each doctoral school of the U.B., proposed for occupation during the admission sessions organised by the U.B., through each doctoral school.
- (2) Within the U.B., the priority fields and areas of interest are established by the doctoral supervisors, in order to be approved by the council of the doctoral school. The U.B. establishes the institutional strategy for their financing, the form of funding being approved by the C.S.U.D. before the vacant positions of doctoral student are put out to competition.
- (3) The selection of candidates for a vacant position of doctoral student is made by the doctoral school following an admission competition, conducted according to this Regulation, in compliance with the following stages:
 - (a) registration of candidates;
 - (b) the selection process of candidates for the places financed by doctoral grants and those on a fee-paying basis;
 - (c) the distribution of candidates on places financed from the state budget through doctoral grants and on those with fee;
 - (d) posting the results of admission and solving the appeals.
- (4) The admission contest for doctoral studies takes place at the relevant faculty, by field of study, in the presence of the doctoral supervisor. In the case of the Interdisciplinary School of Doctoral Studies – I.S.D.S.-U.B., the place of the admission contest is announced on its website.

- (6) In principle, the doctoral supervisor is part of the admission committee.
- (7) If, for various reasons, the doctoral supervisor is not part of the committee, he will be asked for his agreement on the coordination of the candidate in order to fill the vacant position for doctoral student. Its agreement must be formulated in writing and sent to the management of the doctoral school. In the absence of an agreement, the committee will recommend the candidate to collaborate with another doctoral supervisor who has an available vacant position for doctoral student, with a close scientific theme. The candidate who does not receive the consent of any doctoral supervisor until the completion of the competition procedure will be declared rejected.
- (8) The ranking of the candidates who presented themselves for admission is made in descending order of the admission average, in order to occupy the budgeted positions, respectively those on fee-paying regime previously allocated by the C.S.U.D., and is carried out by the admission committee based on the Admission Regulation of the doctoral school.
- (9) The allocation of positions financed by doctoral grants from the state budget is made by the competition committee by classifying all candidates in a doctoral field on a single list.
- (10) In case of equal averages, the selection of candidates will be made based on the criteria provided in the Admission Regulation of the doctoral school.
- (11) The single list includes all candidates declared admitted, specifying whether they are admitted on positions funded from the state budget or on fee-paying regime, and depending on their options.
